

FIG. 2A

A hand-drawn schematic diagram of a hierarchical structure. At the top is a single box labeled 210. A vertical line connects it to a horizontal line. Below this horizontal line are three vertical branches. The left branch contains a box labeled 220, which is connected to a box labeled 230. The middle branch contains a box labeled 222, which is connected to a box labeled 232. The right branch contains a box labeled 224, which is connected to a box labeled 234. A dashed line labeled 226 is positioned to the right of the rightmost branch, and a dashed line labeled 236 is positioned below the rightmost branch.
